

Under the provisions of Proposition 58, an ownership transfer between parents and children may qualify for exclusion from reassessment. A transfer may only qualify for this exclusion if a Parent/Child claim form is properly completed and returned to the Assessor's Office. We are providing these instructions to assist you in completing the form.

NOTE: If you are making annual, incremental transfers to your children, a separate claim form must be filed for each recorded transfer to qualify for exclusion.

B. TRANSFEROR(S)/SELLER(S)

1. Print full name(s) of transferor(s):

Transferors are those who are GIVING some or all interest in a property. A transferor can also be a decedent whose estate is being transferred to heirs that are children or parents.

If the property was held in a revocable TRUST at the time of the transfer, the TRUSTOR/SETTLOR of the trust is considered to be the owner/transferor of the property.

If you need more space, use chart B on the reverse.

2. Social Security Number(s):

Enter the Social Security Number(s) of all the transferors.

IMPORTANT: The claim form must have all of the transferors' Social Security Number(s) to be complete.

3. Family Relationship to Transferee(s):

To qualify, a transferor's relationship to the transferees may be that of parents, stepparents, in-laws, children, stepchildren, or adopted children. List whether the person(s) giving the property are the mother, father, son, daughter, stepson, etc. of the person(s) receiving the property.

Example: If the transferors are a mother and father giving property to a child, you would answer mother and father. If the transferor is a child giving property to her parents, you would answer daughter.

4. Was this property the transferor's principal residence?

The transferor(s) must have been granted the Homeowner's Exemption or Disabled Veterans' Exemption on the property for it to qualify as their principal residence. If you answer yes to this question, please check which exemption was granted on the property.

5. Are you transferring real property other than the principal residence of the transferor?

If this transfer involved more than one parcel, then we need to know which of the parcels, if any, is the principal residence. All other parcels need to be clearly identified on the form.

6. Was only a partial interest in the property transferred?

If less than 100% of the property was transferred, answer Yes and tell us how much interest was transferred.

7. Was this property owned in joint tenancy?

Were the transferor and transferee joint tenants of this property immediately prior to this transfer?

8. If the transfer was through the medium of a will or trust, you must provide a copy of the trust and all amendments.

If the property was not held in a trust, disregard this question. This only applies to a transfer resulting from the death of a Trustor/Settlor of a trust. Please attach a copy of the will or trust with your claim. It may be easier to provide larger documents in electronic format. Contact us to arrange delivery via email or to have us scan the document.

The Assessor reviews the will or trust to determine whether the transfer qualifies for a parent/child or grandparent/grandchild exclusion. We will not grant an exclusion without a copy of the will or trust. If you are not applying for an exclusion, the document is not needed.

CERTIFICATION:

All of the transferors must sign unless the legal representative has Power of Attorney.

If this transfer is the result of the death of an owner/transferor, the heirs may sign in the decedents place.

C. TRANSFEREE(S)/BUYER(S)

Enter the relationship to the transferor. List whether the person(s) receiving the property are the mother, father, son, daughter, stepson, etc. of the person(s) giving the property. For example, if you are receiving property from your parents, you would answer son, daughter, stepson, etc.
